

ALEJANDRA LEIBOVICH

BIO

I grew up in a bloody dictatorship in an antisemitic, chauvinist, totalitarian society. The milk was brought to us in metallic milk cans on a wagon pulled by a horse. I left Argentina in 1996, barely able to speak English and with no college degree.

Since then, I have co-founded several million and multi-million-dollar businesses, including one that has been recognized by INC Magazine as one of the 5000 Fastest Growing Companies in the Country 9 years in a row and won the Entrepreneur Woman of the Year award.

I have won an Innovation Award for software I have designed and built to help my businesses scale for growth. I have won dozens of international design and animation awards based on my work as Sr. Art Director for MTV, Nickelodeon, and Vh1. I have shown my movies and animated short films at SDCC San Diego Comic Con, MOCA, Brooklyn International Children's Film Festival, Chicago Children's Film Festival, La Femme International Film Fest, Madrid Film Festival, and many more.

I started painting as my own creative outlet. My paintings have been shown at sold-out shows in Art Basel Miami and many other great galleries, which are too many to list here. I hope you enjoy my work and it brings out your happy.

PHILOSOPHY

Humor is the one thing that usually brings people together. No matter what nationality or language one can speak or if someone is tall or short, chubby or slim, big feet or small feet, blond or redhead, good humor has the power to bring us together. I decided to explore my humor through my art, and what a surprise I found! So, whether you are a gallery owner, an art connoisseur, or a secret agent, that little voice inside your head telling you, 'Selling her paintings is an amazing idea!'... it's brilliant.
